ABOUT

UNIVERSITY INSTITUTE OF DESIGN

The University Institute of Design (UID) is the largest center for design studies in the region. Our undergraduate programs in Fine Arts and Design emphasize experiential learning, prioritizing tangible outcomes through practical experiences. Our curriculum fosters community immersion and a commitment to meaningful social impact. UID has garnered accreditations and validations from leading industry players, providing its students with a distinct professional advantage.

Since its inception in 2017, UID has set a new benchmark in design education, offering a dynamic, hands-on project-based learning model. Our flexible academic structure allows for a diverse selection of Majors and Minors, nurturing creativity and innovation to prepare professionals for the real-world challenges of various fields. All programs at UID are built upon our five-fold design ethos: Sustainable, Inclusive, Collaborative, Sensitive, and Futuristic design. We are dedicated to instilling these values in our students, empowering them to create meaningful impacts at both local and global levels.

OUR

UID EDGE

Industry-Aligned Curriculum

All programs of the department are formulated in collaboration with academic experts in the field. Our academic model is designed in alignment with industry needs, ensuring that students gain relevant skills and knowledge that prepare them for successful careers in design.

Experienced-Based Learning

Students alternate time spent in the classroom with time spent in professional practice—working through internships, conferences, workshops, and live design challenges while building impressive professional resumes.

State-of-the-Art Infrastructure

With a reputation for a thriving design community, UID offers opportunities to meet industry demands and elevate creativity with fully equipped CAD and design labs along with work space studios.

Collaborative Culture

Through innovative, interdisciplinary projects brought by renowned local, regional, and international design organizations, our students learn to work collaboratively with creative communities.

Subject Matter Experts

Our experienced faculty are both thought leaders and practitioners in design. Working at the intersection of business and design, our faculty constantly apply theory to real organizational contexts and shape what's next.

Outstanding Placements

Our extensive industry network ensures that students get the best career opportunities and build fulfilling careers.
